Enter the Awards and be one of the success stories of 2019
at www.ciaawards.co.uk

All entries will be judged by a panel of experts, with shortlisted candidates being subjected to a more extensive judging process, in some cases involving a site visit, interview or presentation.

Award Criteria

Entry is open to the whole of the UK chemical industry and to companies that provide services to the chemical industry as appropriate for each particular Award.

Entries should be submitted electronically at www.ciaawards.co.uk by Friday 12 April 2019.

ABB Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award

This Award is to recognise the company or individual operating unit that can demonstrate world-class manufacturing performance or the most successful improvement to its manufacturing performance involving demonstrable excellence and/or significant improvements to resource efficiency (raw materials, energy, water, utilities etc) within the manufacturing process.

Young Ambassador Award

This Award is to recognise an outstanding young person demonstrating communication skills and leadership associated with the chemical industry and contributing to its success.

Chemical Industry Service Provider of the Year Award

The purpose of this Award is to recognise the contribution service providers make to the success of the UK chemical industry. The Award will recognise innovation and outstanding delivery of services to the chemical or pharmaceutical sectors, for example, engineering, IT, legal, training.

CIA Company of the Year Award

The winner of this Award will be, in the view of the judges, the most outstanding CIA member company – demonstrating growth of its business and a sustained contribution to the UK economy. This is the pinnacle Award of the year and entering companies will have to demonstrate outstanding performance against the following criteria: Proven excellence in at least two areas of performance exemplified by the other 2019 Award categories; demonstrable commitment to sustainable growth of the business and sustained commitment to the UK economy.

Environmental Leadership Award

This Award is for recognition of the company or site that has achieved excellence in environmental leadership demonstrated by improved or optimum sustained environment programme performance and a good environmental record. It is open to any chemical manufacturing company (CIA and non-CIA members) or any service provider working with such companies.

Skills Award

This Award is open to companies working in the science industry sector. Its purpose is to recognise the employer who has done the most to contribute to the acquisition of skills by the company's workforce through an active skills development work programme. A good example of this is the Cogent Gold Standard, but companies who follow similar aims by a different approach are encouraged to apply.

GSK Innovation Award

This Award is for the company or operating unit which can provide the most successful examples of innovation – turning ideas into money – in an area of its business that helps solve today's societal challenges. Examples of challenges that judges would expect to be addressed by applicants include climate change, water conservation, environmental improvement and an ageing population. The judges will be looking for a clever idea that has been implemented for commercial success and the benefit of the UK chemical industry.

Health Leadership Award

This Award is for recognition of the company or site that has achieved excellence in health leadership demonstrated by improved or optimum sustained health programme performance and a healthy workforce and workplace. The key characteristics of effective health leadership include senior management commitment, employee engagement and evidence of a culture of proactive health risk management and wellbeing support initiatives that align with sustainable development goals and metrics.

INEOS Responsible Care Award

This Award is for the company or site which has excelled at Responsible Care by demonstrating leadership and a creative approach.

Low Carbon Award

This Award will be given to the company which can best demonstrate enhanced carbon management through initiatives such as improved resource efficiency, the use of alternative energy sources and solutions designed to achieve energy saving across their supply chain.

Reputation Award

This Award is in recognition of the organisation, company, business unit or manufacturing site that can demonstrate excellence and innovation in the building and/or enhancing of its reputation and that of the chemical industry.

Special Responsible Care Award for Process Safety Leadership

This Award will be given to the company or site that can demonstrate excellence in Process Safety Leadership performance. This category is designed to sustain the high profile of process safety; reinforce process safety as an integral element within Responsible Care; promote the CIA Best Practice Guide on process safety leadership and encourage leadership and the sharing of best practice.
